Celebrate An American Icon

For the first time in Silver!

This new .999 fine silver round salutes the 100th anniversary of the "I Want You" U.S. Army recruiting poster featuring "Uncle Sam" and is available to dealers exclusively from Dillon Gage.

It was originally the cover for the July 6, 1916, issue of Leslie's Weekly using the headline: "What Are You Doing for Preparedness?" The poster's artist, James Montgomery Flagg, declared that his portrait of "Uncle Sam" went on to become, "the most famous poster in the world."

Over four million copies were printed between 1917 and 1918, as the United States entered World War I and needed to rally enlistments and support for the nation's armed forces.

Because of its overwhelming popularity, the image was later adapted for use in World War II.
